

Here are some important things to know when you register for the EHR stimulus funds.

The certification numbers listed on the CHPL website for the NextGen Ambulatory EHR CC-1112-345777-1 and NextGen Inpatient Clinicals CC-1112-300400-1 are NOT the numbers that you will enter into the field for EHR Certification Number. You will need to select the active text link for “What is an EHR Certification Number” which will take you to the CHPL page. On that page, you will search for the certified product(s) that you use in your practice or hospital. You will add each of them to your cart. Once you have selected all of the certified products which you are using, you will view the cart, confirm they are correct, and select the button to generate a certification number. The number that generates is the one that you will then enter in the EHR Certification Number box on the registration page.

About Product Classifications

EHR products classified as Complete EHR have been certified to meet all the mandatory certification criteria as identified in the Standards and Certification Criteria Final Rule (45 CFR Part 170 Part III). Complete EHR products listed on the CHPL have been certified to meet all of the General Criteria listed in Section 170.302, plus all of the criteria applicable to a type of practice setting. (In the Final Rule, the certification criterion for Accounting for Disclosures (§ 170.302(w)) is optional for systems or technologies seeking certification and may not appear.)

EHR Modules are those technologies that are certified to at least one of the certification criteria as defined in the Standards and Certification Criteria Final Rule. Due to the regulatory requirement that EHR Module technologies be certified to the security criteria elaborated in the Final Rule, many EHR Modules will be certified to more than one of the regulatory criteria.
