Take a step forward

A dated user interface, weak analytics, and costly add-ons take a toll on your practice. Whether it's long after-hours charting, limited visibility into dashboards and analytics, gaps in usability, or concerns about the tech roadmap, your legacy EMR may no longer be the right fit for the future of your practice.

Your EHR should work alongside you, with workflows that mesh with your day-to-day and a future-centric platform that scales with you.

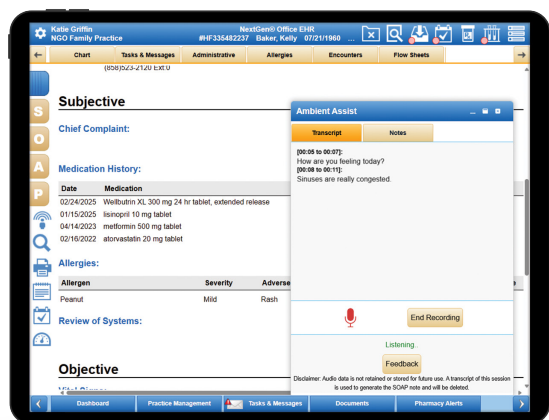

“I like the training modules that came with NextGen Office. I still use them when we onboard a new provider. It's very simple to send a link, and it makes training really easy.”

- Jodi Strock, Practice Administrator, Physicians Urgent Care

“I’m a small business owner, I’m not just the average doctor that is seeing patients. I love patient care, I’ll never want to stop doing that, but the medical record documentation really hinders you from enjoying that. I’m glad Ambient [Assist] is here now and is so feasible... It is just very seamless, and that’s why I love it.”
