GENERAL TERMS

1. PAYMENT OF FEES

1.1 Fees; Payment Terms. Client shall pay the Fees set forth in the applicable Order Form(s) in accordance with the terms of this Agreement and such Order Form(s). Unless otherwise specified in an Order Form or addendum, payment terms are Net thirty (30) days from invoice date. Client will pay Fees without setoff or deduction except to the extent required by law. Except as otherwise set forth in an Order Form, Client's obligation to pay all Fees for the entire Service Term is non-cancelable and irrevocable, and Fees are payable regardless of Client's actual use of the Mirth Offerings, implementation status, or timing of Client's internal adoption. Fees are as set forth in the applicable Order Form. Company may increase the Fees for the applicable Mirth Offering on an annual basis, effective at the start of each contract year during the applicable License or Service Term (and any Renewal Term), by an amount equal to the lesser of (a) five percent (5%) or (b) the percentage increase in the U.S. Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers (CPI-U), U.S. City Average, All Items. Company will provide Client at least sixty (60) days' prior written notice of any such increase. Any adjustment under this Section applies only to recurring Fees (including License Fees, Software Maintenance subscription and any other subscription Fees). Company further reserves the right to modify its Fees and subscriptions, effective as of the beginning of the next applicable Term with sixty (60) days prior notice to the Client. Company further reserves the right to modify its Fees and subscriptions, effective as of the beginning of the next applicable Term with sixty (60) days prior notice to the Client.

1.2 Invoicing. Company will invoice Client in accordance with the applicable Order Form.

1.3 Credit Card and eCheck Payments. If Company permits credit/debit card or eCheck/ACH payment, Client authorizes Company to charge the payment method for Fees due. Client represents it is authorized to use the payment method and will maintain current and accurate payment information. Payments by credit card may be subject to a processing fee equal to the lesser of (a) Company's actual processing cost for the transaction or (b) the maximum amount permitted by applicable Law. Payments made by eCheck or ACH will not be subject to a processing fee. Client remains responsible for any chargebacks, reversals, or other payment disputes initiated by Client or the card issuer.

1.4 Billing Disputes. If Client believes in good faith that Company has incorrectly billed Client, Client must notify Company in writing, in reasonable detail, of the dispute through Company's designated support or customer success channel (Success Community) prior to the date payment is due. Invoices for which no such timely notification is received will be deemed accepted by Client as true and correct, and Client shall pay all amounts due under such invoices by the applicable due date. The Parties shall seek to resolve all such disputes expeditiously and in good faith. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, each Party shall continue to fulfill its obligations under this Agreement during any such dispute, including payment by Client of all undisputed amounts due and payable. A billing dispute concerns the accuracy of an invoiced amount. Dissatisfaction with the Mirth Offering is not a billing dispute and does not excuse timely payment.

2. CLIENT RESPONSIBILITIES

2.1 Client Responsibilities; End User Compliance. Client is responsible for: (a) access and use of the Mirth Offerings by Client, Affiliated Organizations, and End Users; and (b) ensuring all End Users comply with this Agreement.

2.2 Required Resources. Client must procure and maintain client-side equipment, devices, and network connectivity as required per the Order Form and User Materials.

2.3 Professional Diagnosis and Treatment. The Mirth Offerings do not make clinical, medical, or professional decisions and are not substitutes for professional judgment. Client is solely responsible for all clinical decisions, professional judgment, and compliance with applicable Law.

2.4 Limitations on Use. Except as expressly permitted in this Agreement, Client will not and Client will not permit any End User or Third Party to: (a) sell, transfer, lease, assign, or sublicense Mirth Offerings (except where expressly authorized on an Order Form); (b) use as service bureau or outsourcing except that Client may permit authorized End Users for internal operations, subject to binding written agreements; (c) permit access using another End User's ID or credentials; (d) use any Product or Service to process anything other than the Client's, Affiliated Organizations', or an End Users' data; or (e) bypass security measures.

2.5 Developer License Restrictions. Client may use Developer Licenses solely for internal development, testing, and evaluation. Developer Licenses are strictly non-production, non-transferable, and non-perpetual, even if tied to a perpetual license purchase. Client may not distribute software containing Mirth® Connect code from Developer Licenses. Breach constitutes material breach of this Agreement.

2.6 Credential Management. Client is responsible for appropriate credential management, including disabling credentials for departed personnel, using strong passwords, implementing MFA, and reporting suspected compromise to Company.

2.7 Open-Source Software Disclosure. The Mirth Offerings include Third Party open-source code. Disclosures and licenses are available in the Mirth Offerings installation files in \docs\thirdparty. and within the Mirth Connect Administrator. The licenses are granted by the original licensors of the respective open-source code. Client is responsible for compliance with open-source license terms. Company disclaims warranties regarding open-source code.

2.8 Usage Governance and Enforcement. If Client has purchased rights that require compliance with specific usage limitations, those terms are set forth in the applicable Order Form. Client's non-compliant use is unauthorized. Company may audit usage, require periodic reports, suspend rights, or terminate this Agreement for material breach. Fees for unauthorized use are calculated retroactively at Company's then-current list price.

3. CONFIDENTIALITY

3.1 Protection of Confidential Information. The Receiving Party shall: (i) use Confidential Information solely for performing under this Agreement; (ii) protect it with at least the same care used for its own confidential information, but no less than reasonable care; (iii) limit disclosure to Personnel who need to know and who are bound by equivalent confidentiality obligations.

3.2 Compelled Disclosure. The Receiving Party may disclose Confidential Information to the extent required by law, regulation, or court order, provided that the Receiving Party gives the Disclosing Party prompt notice and reasonably cooperates at the Disclosing Party's expense in seeking a protective order or remedy.

3.3 Return or Destruction. Upon written request, the Receiving Party will return or destroy Confidential Information in its possession, except that it may retain: (a) one archival copy for legal, regulatory, or compliance purposes, and (b) Confidential Information in routine system backups, subject to confidentiality obligations and legal hold requirements.

3.4 Equitable Relief. Each Party acknowledges that unauthorized use or disclosure of Confidential Information may cause irreparable harm for which monetary damages are insufficient. Either Party may seek equitable relief in addition to other available remedies.

4. PRIVACY

4.1 Protected Health Information. To the extent Company creates, receives, maintains, or transmits Protected Health Information (PHI) on behalf of Client, Company acts solely as a Business Associate, and the Parties shall enter into and comply with an applicable Business Associate Agreement (BAA). The BAA will govern the parties' obligations regarding PHI and controls in case of conflict with this Agreement. Company does not own the PHI provided by Client, and Client will provide Company with only the minimum PHI required to perform the Services hereunder.

4.2 Personal Information. Company may collect and process limited non-PHI personal information (contact information, credentials, support communications) solely for account administration, authentication, support, security, and service communications. Such use is governed by Company's Privacy Policy on its website. By engaging with the Services, the Client and its End Users signify their understanding of, and agreement to, the data practices as described in the Company's Privacy Policy.

4.3 Compliance with Law. Each Party shall comply with applicable privacy and data protection Laws. Client is responsible for providing notices and obtaining consents required for Client's collection, use, and disclosure of Client Data.

5. MIRTH OFFERINGS LICENSE

5.1 Mirth Offerings License; Grant of Rights

5.1.1 Grant. Subject to Client's compliance with this Agreement, Company grants Client a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to use the Mirth Offerings during the applicable License Term in quantities and configurations set forth in the applicable Order Form. Except as set forth in the Perpetual License Grants and Limitations section herein and any incorporated Schedule, all license rights terminate upon expiration of the License Term or termination of the Order Form.

5.1.2 Scope of License. During the License Term, and provided Client is in compliance with this Agreement, Company grants Client a non-exclusive, non-transferable license to:

- (A) Install and implement the Mirth Offerings on Authorized Server(s) and, where applicable, Authorized Workstation(s) solely for End User use for Client's internal business operations, in quantities set forth in the applicable Order Form and/or Schedule;
- (B) Use the Mirth Offerings in accordance with applicable Metrics and User Materials; and
- (C) Use, copy, and distribute internally User Materials as reasonably required. All copies must retain copyright and proprietary notices.

5.2 Perpetual License Grants and Limitations. If an Order Form expressly designates a license as a "Perpetual License," Client receives the following rights after expiration or termination of any maintenance or support subscription:

5.2.1 License Scope. A Perpetual License entitles Client to use the specific Mirth® Connect version in effect on the date the initial Software Maintenance Services Term ends (or, if no maintenance is purchased, on the Effective Date of the Order Form), solely for Client's internal business operations, or as indicated by an executed OEM Schedule, in the quantities and configurations originally licensed.

5.2.2 No Access to Updates or New Releases. Perpetual License rights do not entitle Client to Updates, enhancements, new releases, major versions, or technical support unless Client maintains an active Software Maintenance subscription. Updates are available only through active maintenance.

5.2.3 No Managed Cloud Services; Command Center Access Restricted. Perpetual License rights do not include access to: (i) Mirth® Command Center, (ii) Mirth® Fully Managed, (iii) Mirth® Data Hub, (iv) Managed Cloud Services, or (v) SaaS functionality. Mirth Command Center access is provided only when Client maintains an active Software Maintenance subscription. Upon expiration or termination of any Software Maintenance subscription, all Mirth Command Center access immediately ceases.

5.2.4 No Support, Maintenance, or Hosting Obligations. Perpetual License rights entitle Client only to use the licensed software at Client's expense. Company has no obligation to provide technical support, Maintenance Services, Hosting, operation, or Updates unless Client maintains an active Maintenance Services subscription. Client is responsible for all Hosting, security, patching, and operational support, unless specified otherwise in an applicable Order Form.

5.2.5 No Redistribution Rights. Perpetual License rights do not include any right to redistribute, embed, sublicense, or make the Mirth Offerings available to third parties unless separately granted pursuant to a written agreement signed by Company.

5.2.6 Developer License Status. Developer Licenses are non-perpetual, regardless of any Perpetual License purchased for production use. Developer Licenses terminate upon expiration or termination of the applicable Order Form and cannot be converted to Perpetual status.

5.3 Bulk Licensing and Tiered Pricing. Client may purchase Mirth Offerings under a Bulk Licensing model. Each Bulk License Order Form shall specify (i) the number of Instances included in that Bulk License, and (ii) the tiered pricing rate applicable to those Instances for the License Term. If Client purchases additional Instances through a supplemental Order Form, those additional Instances shall constitute a separate purchase. The pricing tier for the additional Instances shall be determined based solely on the quantity specified in the supplemental Order Form and shall be effective as of the date of that supplemental Order Form.

5.4 Dynamic Licensing. The Dynamic Licensing Schedule governs the scope, metrics, utilization measurement, overage calculations, and all other terms applicable to Dynamic Licenses. In the event of conflict between this Agreement and the Dynamic Licensing Schedule, the Schedule controls.

5.4.1 Purchase Options. If an Order Form designates Client as a Dynamic Licensee, Client may purchase Dynamic Licenses as (i) Bundles, (ii) Bulk quantities under the Bulk Licensing model described in the Bulk Licensing and Tiered Pricing Section, or (iii) a combination of both, as specified in the applicable Order Form. Bulk quantities purchased for Dynamic Licenses are subject to the same fixed-quantity, tiered-pricing structure described in the Bulk Licensing and Tiered Pricing Section without the overage flexibility available to Bundle purchases.

5.4.2 Automatic Freeing of Inactive Instances. All Dynamic Licenses, regardless of purchase option, are subject to the automatic freeing of inactive Instances after twenty-five (25) consecutive hours of inactivity, as further described in the Dynamic Licensing Schedule.

5.5 OEM Licenses. If an Order Form designates Client as an OEM Licensee, or if Client uses or redistributes the Mirth Offerings as embedded in or integrated with Client's own products and services, the following terms apply:

(a) Client receives a non-exclusive license to redistribute the Mirth Offerings as embedded in or integrated with Client's own products and services, subject to the terms of this Agreement, the applicable Order Form, and the OEM Schedule.

(b) Redistribution rights are limited to quantities, configurations, territory, and end-customer scope as specified in the Order Form and OEM Schedule. If no OEM Schedule exists or the Order Form does not specify redistribution parameters, Client shall execute a supplemental Order Form defining those parameters before commencing redistribution.

(c) Client is responsible for ensuring that all end customers who receive the redistributed Mirth Offerings (i) comply with the terms of this Agreement, and (ii) are bound by written agreements that restrict use, redistribution, and reverse engineering. Client shall provide copies of such end-customer agreements to Company upon request.

(d) Client's failure to maintain end-customer compliance or to execute a supplemental Order Form defining redistribution parameters is a material breach of this Agreement.

5.6 Production and Non-Production Instances. Unless stated otherwise in an applicable Order Form:

5.6.1 On-Premises Deployment. Client may operate Instances on Authorized Server(s) located in the U.S. in Client-owned or leased facilities, subject to identification to Company, if requested. This section applies regardless of whether Instances were purchased under the traditional licensing model, as Bulk Licenses, or as Bundles.

5.6.2 Production Instances. For each Production Instance licensed, Client may operate one (1) Production Instance per license purchased, regardless of whether such Production Instance was purchased under the traditional licensing model, as a Bulk License, or as part of a Bundle.

5.6.3 Non-Production Instances. If Client has purchased one or more Bundles, Client may operate up to three (3) Non-Production Instances per Production Instance included in each such Bundle. This section does not apply to Instances purchased as Bulk Licenses without Bundles or under the traditional licensing model; Client must separately purchase any Non-Production Instances desired in connection with such purchases. Each Non-Production Instance may be installed in a separate Client-owned or leased U.S. location, identified to Company if requested.

5.7 License Keys. Mirth Offerings require a License Key to operate. The License Key is provided at Delivery. Additional License Keys are provided as needed.

5.8 No Title Transfer. All Company Technology remains personal property with title remaining with Company. Client has no right, title, or interest except as authorized by this Agreement. Client shall keep Company Technology free from judgments, liens, and encumbrances, and shall give Company immediate notice of any attachment, judicial process, lien, or encumbrance, and shall indemnify Company for losses.

5.9 Effect of Termination. Upon termination or expiration of this Agreement or License Term, unless otherwise stated, Client must: (a) immediately cease all use of the Mirth Offerings; (b) uninstall all copies of the Mirth Offerings from all servers and workstations; (c) destroy or render unreadable all media containing the Mirth Offerings; (d) certify in writing to Company within 30 days of termination that uninstallation and destruction is complete. If Client fails to cease use of the Mirth Offerings, Company reserves the right to disable access and pursue remedies available under law.

5.10 Delivery. The Mirth Offerings and Services are deemed delivered and accepted by Client on the earliest of: (a) the date Company makes the software available for Client download or access (for on-premises deployments); (b) the date Company provides Client with access credentials and the Managed Cloud Environment is ready for use (for Managed Cloud Services); (c) the date the License Key is provided to Client (for perpetual or subscription licenses); or (d) the date Company's delivery of Implementation or Consulting Services is complete as set forth in the applicable Statement of Work. Delivery does not require Client's affirmative acceptance or installation; availability for use constitutes delivery.

5.11 Client Responsibility for Updates and Upgrades. Unless the applicable Order Form expressly designates that Client's Managed Cloud Services subscription includes Maintenance Services: (a) Client is solely responsible for initiating, scheduling, and applying all Updates and upgrades to the Mirth Offerings, regardless of license type (perpetual or subscription) or delivery model (on-premises, Hosting, or Managed Cloud Services). For the avoidance of doubt, Client's purchase of Hosting alone does not include Maintenance Services and does not relieve Client of its responsibilities under this Section; (b) Company does not automatically apply Updates or upgrades to Client's Instance; (c) Company's provision of Hosting, Software Maintenance Services, or Professional Services does not include automatic Updates; (d) Client's responsibility for Updates applies even if Client has purchased Managed Cloud Services for other Company products; and (e) Updates are available to Maintenance Services subscribers for application by the Client; Upgrades are available through Professional Services on a time-and-materials basis.

6. MANAGED CLOUD SERVICES AND SAAS OFFERINGS. The provisions of Section 6 apply exclusively to Clients who have purchased or utilize Managed Cloud Services subscriptions.

6.1 Overview and Scope. Company offers Managed Cloud Services under two distinct delivery models: (a) Software-as-a-Service (SaaS), whereby Company hosts and manages the Mirth Offerings as a cloud-based service; and (b) Managed Deployment, whereby Company hosts the Mirth Offerings on Company-controlled infrastructure; Managed Deployment does not include Maintenance Services unless expressly included in the applicable Order Form. These models are collectively referred to as "Managed Cloud Services" and are distinct from on-premises licenses. Unless otherwise included by Company as part of its standard Mirth Offerings, Managed Cloud Services require separate subscription Fees specified in the applicable Order Form. The Service Term shall commence on the Effective Date specified in the Order Form and continue for the stated period, unless earlier terminated in accordance with this Agreement. Renewal is governed by the applicable Order Form or the Term and Termination section renewal provisions. Unless the Order Form provides otherwise, the commencement of subscription Fees is not contingent on completion of setup, installation, or training. Client remains responsible for Fees during any such professional services engagement.

6.2 SaaS Offerings. Company's SaaS Offerings are provided on a subscription basis and include: (a) access and use of the Mirth Offerings through the Company-controlled Environment; (b) non-administrative, remote access to the Environment; (c) Software Maintenance Services; and (d) updates to Third-Party Software. Except for the limited access and use rights expressly granted herein, no license is granted under SaaS. Client receives the right to access and use only, not to own, copy, or modify the hosted software. Certain SaaS Offerings may require Client to install Plug-in Software on Client's equipment to access the SaaS Offering.

6.2.1 SaaS End User Access and Plug-in Software License. During the Service Term, Client has a non-transferable, non-exclusive license to permit SaaS End Users to: (a) access the Mirth Offerings through the Company-controlled Environment, and (b) install and use Plug-in Software on Client's equipment to access the SaaS Offerings for internal business operations. Client is responsible for ensuring all SaaS End Users comply with all Agreement terms and conditions. Client's failure to enforce End User compliance constitutes a material breach of this Agreement.

6.3 Managed Cloud Environment; Company Obligations.

6.3.1 Environment Operation. Company shall host and operate the Environment in Company-selected cloud infrastructure. Company will maintain the Environment consistent with industry-standard security and availability practices and implement commercially reasonable safeguards to protect Client Data per this Agreement and any applicable BAA.

6.3.2 Installation and Configuration. Company will load and/or configure the applicable Mirth Offerings in the Environment. However, work migrating from existing non-Company environments is not included in the subscription fee.

and may be provided under a separate Order Form and Statement of Work at Company's then-current professional services rates.

6.3.3 Third-Party Infrastructure and Operating Systems. Company is responsible for obtaining licenses and access rights for Third-Party Systems, databases, and utilities required to operate the Environment. Client obtains no rights to these items. Items Company obtains are separate from the Mirth Offerings and Third-Party Materials Client must purchase separately.

6.3.4 Service Maintenance and Performance. Company will maintain the Environment and Mirth Offerings to perform consistent with the specifications in the applicable User Materials. Company does not guarantee uninterrupted service or error-free operation.

6.3.5 Platform Evolution, Nature of Changes. Client acknowledges the Mirth Offerings are part of an evolving platform. Company may modify, update, enhance, replace, or modernize the Mirth Offerings, including changes to infrastructure, user interfaces, workflows, security controls, architecture, application programming interfaces (APIs), Third Party components, or underlying technologies. Such changes may result in functional differences or retirement of legacy features, provided the Mirth Offerings continue to materially conform to their intended purpose. Platform Changes do not constitute breach and are not required to be backward compatible. Client's continued use of the Offerings following a Platform Change constitutes Client's acceptance of the change.

6.3.6 Notice and Exceptions. Company will use commercially reasonable efforts to provide advance notice of material Platform Changes. However, Company may implement changes without notice to address security risks, compliance requirements, or platform stability.

6.3.7 Client-Managed Instance Upgrades. Where Company provides Hosting for a Mirth Offering, Client remains solely responsible for initiating, scheduling, and applying all Updates and upgrades to the hosted Instance in accordance with the Client Responsibility for Updates and Upgrades section, regardless of whether Client has purchased Managed Cloud Services or receives no-cost upgrades for any other Mirth Offering or other Company product.

6.4 Misuse of End User Credentials; Overage Usage. If Company reasonably verifies that Client has: (a) misused or shared Managed Cloud Services End User credentials, including user IDs, logins, passwords, or system access keys, beyond the authorized quantity; or (b) used such credentials in violation of this Agreement, then Client shall pay additional Service Fees for the unauthorized use period at Company's then-current list price. Such Fees are due within thirty (30) days of invoice. Going forward, subsequent invoices will reflect the correct user quantities and applicable Fees. Repeated instances of misuse or failure to pay assessed Fees within the specified timeframe constitutes a material breach of this Agreement.

6.5 Archive and Reprocessing Services (Managed Cloud Services Only). Archive and Reprocessing Services are optional features available exclusively with Managed Cloud Services subscriptions. These Services enable Client to retrieve, store, and reprocess historical Client Data outside the production Managed Cloud Service environment. Availability and pricing for Archive and Reprocessing Services, including whether such Services are included in Client's Managed Cloud Services subscription or constitute a separate add-on service, shall be specified in the applicable Order Form. If Archive and Reprocessing Services are provided as a separate add-on, subscription Fees shall be specified in the Order Form and Client shall execute a separate subscription agreement for those Services. Archive and Reprocessing Services, whether included or separate, are provided under the same terms as Managed Cloud Services. Client's use of Archive and Reprocessing Services is subject to all applicable limitations, restrictions, and compliance obligations set forth in Managed Cloud Services section.

6.6 Managed Cloud Service Expiration/Termination. Upon expiration or termination of a Managed Cloud Services subscription for any reason, Client's right to access and use the Managed Cloud Services offerings immediately terminates. Client must, at its expense, promptly uninstall and remove all Plug-in Software, if any, and delete all User Materials from Client-controlled systems. If Client has access to Mirth® Command Center as part of the Managed Cloud Services subscription, such access is provided solely during the active Service Term. Upon expiration or termination of the subscription, all Mirth® Command Center access immediately and automatically ceases, without notice, regardless of any perpetual or maintenance-supported license held for on-premises instances. Mirth® Command Center access cannot be retained or transferred.

6.7 Client Data Retrieval and Return. Client is solely responsible for retrieving Client Data upon expiration or termination of this Agreement. Upon written request submitted within thirty (30) days following expiration or termination of this Agreement, Company will make Client Data available for export in a commercially reasonable standard format supported by the applicable Managed Cloud Service. Client must complete export within the thirty (30)-day window. Company shall have no obligation to retain or make available Client Data after such period. Failure by Client to request export of Client Data within the thirty (30)-day period specified herein constitutes Client's irrevocable waiver of any right to retrieve such Client Data, subject to any mandatory retention requirements imposed by applicable Law. After thirty (30) days following expiration or termination of this Agreement (or longer if required by Law), Company will delete or render unrecoverable all remaining Client Data. Retained data remains subject to confidentiality and security obligations. Company disclaims responsibility for maintaining Client Data for regulatory, audit, or medical record retention purposes. Client is solely responsible for timely export and retention per applicable Law.

6.8 Additional Transition Services. Client may procure additional transition services at Company's then-current hourly rates and standard terms and conditions, subject to mutual written agreement.

7. IMPLEMENTATION AND CONSULTING SERVICES

7.1 Self-Installation; Optional Services. The Mirth Offerings are provided on a self-installation basis and do not include implementation or consulting services, unless otherwise stated on an applicable Order Form. Client may optionally purchase Implementation Services and/or Consulting Services under a separate supplemental Order Form. Company will perform such optional services in accordance with a mutually agreed Statement of Work and applicable Order Form and any addenda.

7.2 Implementation Services; Statement of Work. If Client purchases Implementation Services, each Statement of Work shall include: (a) a detailed implementation project plan, (b) target timeline and/or completion dates, and (c) resource commitments and roles for both Company and Client.

7.3 Scope of Consulting Services. Consulting Services may include technical assistance, custom configuration, data migration guidance, training, and other professional services as specified in the applicable Order Form and Statement of Work. Consulting Services are provided on a time-and-materials basis unless otherwise specified. All work is provided "as is" and is not subject to warranty beyond the limited warranty in the Limited Warranties section.

8. SOFTWARE MAINTENANCE SERVICES

8.1 Maintenance Tiers and Scope. Company offers Software Maintenance Services tiers, as specified in the applicable Order Form and Maintenance Services Schedule. The specific support hours, response times, coverage scope, and entitlements are set forth in the Maintenance Services Schedule available at <https://www.nextgen.com/terms-and-agreements>. To the extent this Agreement conflicts with the Maintenance Services Schedule, the Maintenance Services Schedule controls regarding support services, and maintenance entitlements.

8.2 Maintenance Services Term. (a) For Software Maintenance Services provided under perpetual licenses, the Service Term is specified separately in the applicable Order Form and is independent of the License Term. Perpetual license holders may renew Software Maintenance Services subscriptions annually or as specified. (b) For Software Maintenance Services provided under non-perpetual licenses, the Service Term is coterminous with the License Term. Upon License Term expiration, Software Maintenance Services automatically expire unless Client purchases a renewal License Term.

8.3 Software Maintenance Fees; Renewal. (a) For Perpetual Licenses: Software Maintenance Services Fees are billed separately and stated in the applicable Order Form. Fees are non-refundable. Software Maintenance Services subscriptions must be renewed annually or as specified to retain active support. (b) For Non-Perpetual Licenses: Software Maintenance Services are included in the License fee. Software Maintenance Services automatically expire upon License Term expiration unless Client renews the License Term. (c) All Fees are due annually in advance unless stated otherwise in the applicable Order Form.

8.4 Effect of Lapsed Maintenance. If Client fails to renew a Software Maintenance Services subscription or if Software Maintenance Services lapse for any reason, Client immediately loses all rights to access Updates, new releases, technical support, and security patches during the lapse period. Upon renewal, Client must pay catch-up Fees covering the entire period during which Software Maintenance Services were not active. Catch-up Fees are calculated at Company's then-current list price and must be paid in full before Software Maintenance Services resume. Only once catch-up Fees are paid in full shall Client be provided with current Updates, security patches, and new releases issued during the lapse period.

9. DATA USE POLICY

9.1 PHI Governed by BAA. To the extent Client Data includes PHI, Company's use and disclosure of such PHI is governed by the BAA.

9.2 Use of Data for Operations and Improvements. Company may use Client Data to provide, secure, support, maintain, and improve the Mirth Offerings, including to: (a) configure and personalize Services for Client, and (b) perform analytics to improve workflows, features, performance, and security. Company will not identify Client as the source of any aggregated data and will not disclose such data in a manner that identifies any individual.

9.3 Artificial Intelligence and Assistive Technology Features

9.3.1 Overview. The Mirth Offerings may include features using automation, machine learning, artificial intelligence, large language models, or assistive technologies ("Assistive Features") to analyze inputs, automate tasks, and provide suggestions, recommendations, or summaries intended to support End User workflows. All Assistive Features are optional and require Client activation. Company shall provide disclosure to End Users regarding (i) which Assistive Features are available, (ii) what data each Assistive Feature will process, and (iii) how each Assistive Feature operates. End Users may disable or opt-out of any Assistive Feature at any time.

9.3.2 Accuracy Disclaimer. Client acknowledges that outputs from Assistive Features may be inaccurate, incomplete, biased, or misleading. Client remains solely responsible for validating, reviewing, and approving outputs before use. Client is responsible for all End User decisions made in reliance on Assistive Feature outputs. Assistive Feature outputs are not intended to replace professional judgment and shall not be used as the sole basis for clinical decisions, patient care, or business decisions without independent human review and approval.

9.3.3 PII and Sensitive Data Restrictions; Mirth Assist. Unless Company has explicitly authorized such use in writing with specific safeguards, Client shall not input Protected Health Information (PHI), Personal Data, payment card information, or other sensitive personal information into Assistive Features. Mirth Assist, an Assistive Feature that may be available in certain Mirth Offerings, is currently restricted from PHI input unless Client has executed a separate written agreement authorizing PHI processing with documented safeguards. Other Assistive Features (whether currently available or added in the future) may be designed to permit PHI input and processing under specific compliance guardrails, and such features will be identified in the Order Form or User Materials. Client is responsible for ensuring End Users understand restrictions on data input for each Assistive Feature and understanding which features (if any) are approved for PHI or sensitive data input.

9.3.4 Governance and Monitoring. Company maintains a risk-based governance program for Assistive Features, which may include: (a) pre-deployment testing and validation, (b) accuracy and bias monitoring and evaluation, (c) periodic audits of feature performance, and (d) usage guidelines and documentation.

9.3.5 Client Policies and End User Training. Client is responsible for: (a) establishing and communicating internal policies governing End User use of Assistive Features, (b) requiring appropriate clinical, medical, or professional review of Assistive Feature outputs prior to use in patient care or professional decision-making, (c) obtaining necessary informed consents from individuals whose data may be processed by Assistive Features as required by applicable Law, and (d) ensuring End Users understand Assistive Feature limitations and inaccuracies.

9.3.6 Updates to Assistive Features. Company may update, modify, or deprecate Assistive Features at any time. Company shall provide Client with prompt notice of any material updates or changes to the functionality, data processing, or operation of an Assistive Feature. If Company makes a material change to an Assistive Feature that Client has opted into, Client may reconsider its opt-in election. Client may disable or opt-out of the updated Assistive Feature at any time. Client's continued use of the Mirth Offerings following any change constitutes acceptance. Company is not liable for any adverse effects resulting from updates or deprecation.

10. TERM AND TERMINATION

10.1 Term. This Agreement applies to the Mirth Offerings from the Effective Date of the applicable Order Form until the expiration of the applicable License Term or Service Term, unless terminated earlier. Each Order Form specifies the initial License Term or Service Term.

10.2 Termination with Cause. Either Party may terminate this Agreement or an applicable Order Form for material breach by the other Party, provided that the non-breaching Party gives written notice describing the breach in reasonable detail and the breaching Party fails to cure within 30 days from notice date. The cure period for failure to pay undisputed Fees when due is 15 days. Company may suspend Client's access during any cure period. Either Party may terminate this Agreement immediately upon written notice if the other Party becomes insolvent, ceases conducting business, makes a general assignment for creditors, or becomes subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, or similar proceedings not dismissed within 45 days.

10.3 Effect of Termination. Upon termination or expiration of this Agreement or applicable Order Form for any reason: (i) with the exception of Perpetual Licenses, Client's right to access and use the Mirth Offerings immediately ceases, subject to Client Data access provisions; (ii) Client shall promptly discontinue use of any ancillary software components provided to enable access to the Mirth Offerings; and (iii) except as expressly set forth otherwise in writing, neither Party has further obligations regarding the terminated offering. Termination does not relieve Client of obligations to pay any Fees, expenses, or amounts that accrued before termination or any amounts otherwise due as a result of termination.

10.4 Survival. 15. INDEMNIFICATION

15.1 Company Indemnification. Company will defend Client against any Third-Party claim alleging that Indemnified Technology infringes or misappropriates any Third-Party intellectual property right ("IP Claim"), and Company will pay damages finally awarded by a court or agreed in a written settlement signed by Company. Client must: (a) promptly notify Company in writing of the IP Claim (failure to provide prompt notice relieves Company only to the extent materially prejudiced); (b) give Company sole control of defense and settlement; (c) provide reasonable cooperation at Company's expense.

15.2 Infringement Remedies. If the Mirth Offerings become or are likely to become subject to an IP Claim, Company may, at its option and expense: (a) procure for Client the right to continue using the affected Mirth Offerings; (b) modify the affected Mirth Offerings to become non-infringing without materially reducing functionality; or (c) replace the affected Mirth Offerings with non-infringing services of materially equivalent functionality. measures. Company must: (i) promptly notify Client in writing of such claim (subject to the same prejudice standard as the Company Indemnification section); (ii) permit Client to control defense and settlement; (iii) provide reasonable cooperation at Client's expense.

15.5 Settlement; Cooperation. 15.6 Exclusive Remedy. This section states the indemnifying Party's entire liability and the indemnified Party's exclusive remedy regarding Third-Party infringement and misappropriation claims.

16. GENERAL PROVISIONS

16.4 Choice of Law. This Agreement will be governed by the laws of the state of Delaware, without regard to its conflicts of laws principles.

16.5 Waiver; Modification; Relationship of Parties. Neither Party's waiver of any provision breach is a waiver of that provision in any other instance. This Agreement may not be modified nor any rights waived, in whole or in part, except in writing signed by the Parties. Company is an independent contractor, and nothing in this Agreement constitutes an employment, partnership, joint venture, fiduciary, trust, or agency relationship between the Parties, or authorize either Party to enter into any commitment binding the other Party. Each Party solely determines which of its Personnel will perform its obligations.

Client acknowledges that Company may periodically update or amend this Agreement, including these General Terms, to reflect changes in law, regulatory requirements, security standards, or product offerings. Updates will be posted on Company website and communicated to Client contact. If Client materially objects to an amendment, Client's sole remedy is to terminate the affected Mirth Offerings upon written notice within thirty (30) days of the amendment's effective date.

16.7 Assignment; Binding Effect; Subcontractors. This Agreement is personal to Client, and Client may not delegate and/or assign this Agreement, any Mirth Offerings, or any rights or duties without advance written consent of Company, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. Any attempted delegation or assignment in violation of this section is void. Company may assign this Agreement or its rights to its affiliates or successor in the event of a sale of all or substantially all assets, voting securities, or related assets or business. This Agreement will be binding on and inure to the benefit of the Parties' permitted transferees, successors, and assigns. Company may subcontract performance to Third Parties as it determines appropriate, but Company remains responsible for subcontractor performance.

16.8 Force Majeure. 16.9 Severability. If any term is held invalid, unenforceable, or contrary to any Law or policy, the Parties prefer such term be effective to the extent permitted by Law and will not affect other terms, which will remain in full force and effect.

16.10 Client Identification. Company may publicly identify Client as a customer of Company, unless Client notifies Company in writing that it does not consent.

16.11 Covenant Not to Solicit or Hire. During the Agreement term and for one (1) year thereafter, neither Party will knowingly and directly solicit for employment any employee of the other Party who was materially involved in performance of this Agreement; provided that this section does not restrict general solicitations or hiring of persons who respond to general solicitations or independently seek employment.
